

Ralf Weitz

Chief Product & Technology Officer

Year of birth: 1977

Nationality: German

Ralf Weitz has been Chief Product & Technology Officer of the Scout24 Group since January 2023 and is thus responsible for the Group's product, marketing, tech and data organisation under one roof. Previously, Ralf Weitz was Chief Commercial Officer of the Scout24 Group since December 2018, responsible for all sales activities of the Scout24 marketplaces. He has been with Scout24 for over ten years in various management positions. Since February 2018, he has also been Managing Director of ImmoScout24.

With a degree in economics, he played a key role in building up the Scout24 Consumer Services business segment, which has become an important growth driver for the Group under his leadership. After studying economics in Berlin, Ralf Weitz worked in consulting in an international environment, among other things.
